The people of Pailalelphia regard this project, now nearly completed, with very different eyes. It is important, more different eyes. over, to the nation generally, as an important link in that chain of inner coast wise navigation, the snal completion of wise navigation, the anal completion of which would confer the mist essential benefits on our commerce, especially in time of war. We anticipate favourable results to Baltimore itself from the completion of the Canal, on the general principle which will be found just in the end, however self-interest may sometimes doubt it, that the prosperity of the whole community naturally in volves the prosperity of its parts. Be this at it may, the enterprise concerns us at any rate, and we have therefore published from time to time, whatever published from time to time, whatever information we have found as to the progress of the work. We find an article on this subject in the Philadelphia Aurora. There having been many rumours and alarms in relation to the cathemen of respectability, inspected the works, and come to the conclusion that there was no doubt as to their comple tion and - 1 -- s.

No great incon venience is apprehended, however, from these errors, as in shaping and dressing off the banks, they can be formed into steps. The canal is now completed, and in

PROPOSAL

FOR PRINTING The Journals of the Conventi. ons of the Province of Ma. ryland, Held in the City of Annapolis, in the years 1774, 1775 and 1776. IF Sufficient encouragement be cffered, the Subscriber proposes to pub-lish, in one volume octavo, the lournale of the Conventions of the Province of Maryland in the years 1774, '5 and 6. It is believed that there are not more than two copies of these Journals now extant; and from the circumstance that they were printed in pamphlet form, and unbound, it may be fairly concluded that they, too, must in a few years be destroyed by the mere decay of time. These Journals are the only authentic evidence of the Political History of Maryland, during that interesting and unquiet period. Although we have, in abundance, histories of Maryland, as connected with the association of Provinces and Colonies, at that time formed, for mutual protection against the improper assumption of power on the part of the Mother Coun-try, yet none of these works embrace what may be termed its Domestic and Internal Political History. This part of the history of Mary-nd it should be her pride to hand lown to posterity, not only on account of its deep interest, but as a public State Record of the voluntary sacrifices, daring spirit, and determined re-solution, of her citizens, during this period of doubt and dismay.

In the confident expectation that the citizens of Maryland will consider the proposed publication of sufficient im-portance to entitle it to their patronage, the Subscriber is induced to issue The Price per Copy, not to esceed 82 00.
